

LONG TRIP FOR SOX

Comiskey Announces California Jaunt Is On.

GOING TO HONOLULU IN 1909

Tip O'Neill, the Official Scout, Returns to Chicago with Tentative Dates Arranged—San Johnson Says Major League Schedules for Coming Season Are the Best Ever.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—President O'Neill, of the Western League, official California White Sox scout, returned to his Chicago headquarters yesterday, some days late, but with pockets full of information about training trips. Fifteen minutes after President Comiskey had greeted the wanderer with "What kept you, Tip?" the spring trips of the Sox had been decided on for both 1908 and 1909.

The master of the Sox announced the plans for the California trip were satisfactory and that the team certainly would go there. He also announced he would take his players to Honolulu in the spring of 1909.

Work will begin to-day on framing up the details, all of which have awaited President O'Neill's report on the conditions and arrangements he had made while on the Coast. The "scout" said conditions there were much improved over a year ago, and that San Francisco was being rebuilt rapidly. Much interest already has been aroused by the reported visit of the White Sox, and he has secured the promise of plenty of games to keep them busy while there.

Tentative Trip Arranged.

What the route and the exact dates of the exhibition schedule will be President Comiskey could not announce until he had taken the matter up with the railroad again. A tentative trip has been shaped up complete, and dates are being held in the South and West for the Sox, but until the actual routing is completed many of these cannot be closed, as they may be changed for dates in other cities, which have applied for games. The remaining negotiations, however, are expected to be completed quickly.

Concerning the 1909 trip, Comiskey said he would begin work on that as soon as this year's was off his hands, and if it worked out successfully, the team would start two weeks earlier than this spring so as to allow for the steamer trip from San Francisco. He would plan to spend ten days only on the islands.

President O'Neill jumped into a mass of work which had accumulated since his departure in December, and had to be attended to in advance of the Western League's meeting in Omaha next week.

Hub Hart Signs.

James Hart, better known as "Hub," sent his 1908 contract, with autograph attachment, to headquarters, with the announcement he was ready to start when the training trip did.

President Murphy, of the Cubs, left last night for Vicksburg, Miss., to complete arrangements for the week or ten days stay his team is to make in that city after leaving West Baden and before starting its exhibition games. Adequate baths are an important feature of that period of the spring training, and of leading motive in the Cub owner's trip South is to see that the players will have plenty of bathing facilities.

Before leaving, he announced the Cubs' headquarters would be moved on May 1 from their present location in the Masonic Temple to the new Corn Exchange Bank Building, Adams and La Salle streets. The club has occupied its present offices for two years, and leaves them to secure larger and more luxurious quarters.

President Johnson Returns.

President Johnson and Secretary McRoy, of the American League, returned from Cincinnati. The executive head was much pleased with the work of the joint schedule committee, which completed the dates for next season in two days' work.

He said he thought the schedules the best the major leagues ever had drafted, and there would be fewer conflicting dates in cities having two clubs than ever before. Further than that, he said an agreement had been made to announce outlines of the schedules until their adoption in February.

Regarding the national commission meeting, President Johnson said the expected requests from the minors for changes in the national agreement were made except by the American Association, whose requests were denied. The minor leagues had at least fifteen representatives on hand.

WILL PLAY GEORGETOWN.

Washington and Lee Has Good Material for Basketball Team.

Special to The Washington Herald. Lexington, Va., Jan. 12.—The basketball season at Washington and Lee University promises to be the best since the game was inaugurated at that institution several years ago. At the present time Coach Krebs has material enough for four teams, and will be able to have two men for each position on the team, one as good as the other. Nearly all the old men are back, consisting of ex-Capt. Streiff, Osborne, Smart, Irwin, Moore, and the new material, that looks as though they will give the old men a hustle to keep their positions, are Boyd, Stein, Larick, Robertson, and Derr. All of these men show up equally as good as last year's team. Coach Krebs expressed himself as being satisfied that any team trailing Washington and Lee's colors in the dust this season will have accomplished a task that when they have finished, will feel as though they had gone through the mill that grinds exceeding fine.

The schedule has not yet been completed, as Manager Strassel finds it almost impossible to get games made to re-organize the old Cecil County Baseball League.

May Reorganize Baseball League.

Special to The Washington Herald. Elkton, Md., Jan. 12.—The stockholders of the Elkton baseball team will hold a meeting the latter part of this month to select their officers and arrange to place a fast team on the field this season. Arrangements are now being made to re-organize the old Cecil County Baseball League.

Pitcher Tells Out of Hospital.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 12.—Harry Ellis, the Toledo pitcher, who was accidentally shot by a companion while hunting recently, was discharged from the hospital yesterday. About March 15 he will report for the spring training trip with Toledo.

Taylor to Re-enter Cycling Game.

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 12.—Major Taylor announces that he will re-enter the cycling game and will start in the six-day race in Boston next month.

MUCK RAKE AT ALABAMA.

Alumni of University Insist Upon Their Right to Help Athletes.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 12.—The University of Alabama has adopted a resolution condemning the custom of alumni paying the expenses of students—especially those students who develop into football players. The faculty, realizing that it can do nothing but protest, has protested. The alumni take the stand that they are at liberty to send any person to college whom they see fit, the only terms of admission being age, advancement in studies, and gentlemanly deportment.

This action of the faculty committee was taken after a secret inquiry into the allegation that alumni were paying the expenses of three football players through the University of Alabama. This allegation could not be proved, the alumni involved positively refusing to make a statement, saying that the matter was none of the university's business.

The three students whom the allegations stated were receiving their expenses are Rely, half back; Lumley, center, and Allen, tackle, three valuable members of the team. The young men are still in college, and against them there is no ground to complain. The faculty admits that the three are excellent students.

NO WINCHESTER TEAM?

Famous Virginia Baseball Club May Be Forced to Disband.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Winchester, Va., Jan. 12.—There is gloom here over the poor prospects for a baseball team in Winchester next season. For the last three seasons Winchester has had one of the finest amateur teams in the country. A number of college stars appeared in the line-up.

Capt. Sandy Baker, who has financed the team, besides playing shortstop, owing to increasing business responsibilities, finds himself unable to give his time to the management. Unless other arrangements can be made, it looks as if Reservoir Park will be closed next summer.

MARQUETTE AFTER GROUNDS

Amateur League Has Three Sites Under Consideration.

Prospects for Approaching Season Are Bright—Two Churches Make Application for Membership.

The question of playing grounds is a matter of much concern with the officials of the Marquette League just at present. The league can obtain the use of its old grounds at Thirty-sixth and W streets northwest again this year, but there was considerable dissatisfaction expressed by some of the players on teams in distant sections of the city about the great distance it was necessary to travel and the consequent late hour at which the games were started.

The representatives of the teams met yesterday evening at the home of Capt. Edwards, president of the league, 1217 First street northwest, and discussed the outlook for the approaching season. The ground situation was thoroughly gone over, and a committee, consisting of Capt. Edwards and Messrs. Dove and Langley, was appointed to take up the question.

The league has three sites, not including the Georgetown diamond, under consideration, namely, the old Marquette grounds at Second street and Florida avenue northwest, the plot at Sixteenth and U streets northwest, and the old American League grounds at Thirtieth street and Florida avenue northeast.

Applications for admission to the league have been received from St. Ann's Church, in Tennallytown, and St. Joseph's Church, at Second and C streets northeast, the latter church having been a member of the league a part of last season.

The prospects for the league this year are brighter than they have ever been since the inception of the organization, and it is expected that every team in the league last year will return, with the possible exception of St. Vincent's. In any event, it is likely that the league will not contain any more or any less than six clubs, as most of the teams are in favor of playing two games a week.

SULLIVAN vs. BURNS.

Bout Is Likely Between Soldier and Washington Man.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Baltimore, Jan. 12.—After a long line of talk, it now seems probable that Soldier Burns, the clever local light-weight, will meet Kid Sullivan, of Washington, in the next fifteen-round star battle of the Buxtehude Athletic Club.

Sammy Harris, who is acting as manager of Burns, yesterday said that he and Burns would be willing to agree to almost any conditions to get Sullivan into the ring. Harris said that the conditions recently announced by Manager Herford, calling for the men to split the purse 75 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser, the weight to be 133 pounds at ringside, were satisfactory.

These conditions in action with Burns, according to Harris, for the Soldier, at 135 pounds, is so confident that he can beat Sullivan that he would have consented to the winner to take all of the purse.

The local boxing fans have been anxious to see Sullivan in action with Burns, and it is expected that articles will be drawn up in a day or two for the match. Burns has been clamoring for a match with Sullivan for months. He claims that no other boxer in this city is more entitled to a bout with Sullivan than he, mainly because he has beaten all of the local boxers and many good out-of-town pugilists. Burns is now at his best, and his friends have confidence in him to turn the trick on Sullivan.

Syracuse Is After Forbes.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 12.—Frank J. O'Neill, who has been in charge of the Syracuse football team, has announced that pressure of law work will prevent his taking the place as head coach for another season. A meeting of the athletic board will be held at Syracuse tomorrow night and the selection of a new coach will be discussed. Some persons at Syracuse would like to get R. W. Forbes, the former Wesleyan and Yale football player, who coached West Point last year. Others at Syracuse are for the re-establishment of the graduate system.

Wisconsin Oarsmen Out.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 12.—Thirty-five candidates for the Wisconsin crew have been reported to Coach Ten Eyck. They will all go in training for the "varsity eight." It is not decided definitely whether Wisconsin will put a four-oar crew in the water this year.

GIVES UP BASEBALL

George Washington Likely Not to Have Team.

NO DATES HAVE BEEN MADE

Graduate Manager Wilson Is Opposed to Sport Which Has Proven Financial Drawback, and with No Park in Sight There Is Only the Remotest Chance for Any Games.

George Washington has practically decided not to put a baseball team in the field next spring.

Baseball has never really prospered at the university although fairly strong teams have been placed in the field. Last June the Hatchettes' nine took Georgetown by surprise, and it required extra innings to decide the annual game, but financially the season was a dismal failure.

In addition to lack of funds, the baseball team this spring would be forced to find a suitable field for practice, as Van Ness Park is no longer available for athletics.

Dr. Wilson, the new graduate manager, has long been opposed to a "varsity nine," as he thinks it is too great a financial drawback, and the managers have always experienced difficulty in arranging games of sufficient importance for the latter half of the season. In March and April, when the Northern colleges are in the South, George Washington has had plenty of good games, but in May and June it has been necessary to look to small teams in this vicinity to complete the schedule.

Thus far, practically no arrangements have been made for the season, which is only two months off, and there is only the remotest chance that a regularly recognized "varsity team" will be organized, although class games will probably be arranged to keep alive interest in the sport until next year, when a park will be at the disposal of the university.

The athletic association will hold an election this evening for football manager for next fall. A number of nominations have been made, but there is no decided favorite. The position, which is considered the most desirable on the athletic council, as soon as the election of the new manager is ratified, he will meet Capt. Summers and Graduate Manager Wilson to decide upon a coach and outline plans for next fall.

RAISE PLAYERS' SALARIES.

Tri-State League Will Probably Adopt $2,000 Limit.

Reading, Jan. 12.—The salary limit will be the keynote of the meeting of the Tri-State League to be held here the latter part of the month. The meeting was to have been held in February, but it has been decided to hold it earlier than usual in order to dispose of the salary question.

Manager Weitzel, of the Reading club, said yesterday that there is no doubt whatever that the limit will be raised to $2,000 per month, as it is feared that $2,500 or $2,800 limit would result in inferior players being signed. On account of the salary limit question, Tri-State players are not being signed as promptly as usual, Weitzel declares.

Weitzel signed a string of players for his Reading club and is looking out for several fast ones. Britton, the star pitcher of the Reading Atlantic League club last year, will probably be with the local Tri-State team this year.

TO LIFT BAN ON YALE

Eli Basketball Team Will Be Reinstated by A. A. U.

VICTORY FOR SOUTH ATLANTIC

Local Division of Governing Body Has Won Its Point in Having Suspension Recognized by Other Associations—George Washington Officially Notifies Dr. Wiber.

Satisfied that the proper precedent has been established and that the South Atlantic Association has won its point in receiving the desired recognition from the National A. A. U., Dr. Wiber is considering raising the ban on the Yale basketball team, and it is expected that the collegians will be restored to good standing to-day.

Shortly after the game in which the Elis played against the two professionals on the George Washington team Dr. Wiber suspended Yale for ten days and barred the Hatchettes from all A. A. U. competition until they dropped all men who were not in good standing. Yale applied for reinstatement, but was firmly refused and as a result, was forced to cancel a game scheduled for Saturday.

Despite the fact that the George Washington council refused to acknowledge the A. A. U.'s jurisdiction, when her team's suspension was based took occasion to officially notify Dr. Wiber of its action in dropping the two blacklisted players, and reprimanding Manager Biddle for the part he took in the controversy.

G. W. U. Players Eligible. As the George Washington team was suspended only until it got rid of the professionals, the players are now eligible to apply for registration, and it is understood, as soon as they do this the two members of the team who played with Reges and Cramer will receive the cards which entitle them to membership in the governing body.

As there were extenuating circumstances in the case of Yale, Dr. Wiber is not inclined to have her players suffer longer, and the ban against them will be raised without further delay.

In forcing the question of control of college basketball, the A. A. U. and George Washington unconsciously did the South Atlantic Association a great favor, and the committee, of which Dr. Wiber is chairman, has won one of its greatest victories.

PLAN CLOSED REGATTA.

Yale and Harvard Trying to Form an Alliance with Princeton.

Boston, Jan. 12.—Everything points to the ratification of an exclusion act on the part of Yale and Harvard, as regards rowing races with the universities and colleges, except Annapolis, and perhaps, Princeton. This year Harvard will race the crew of the Naval Academy for the first time, but the date is not settled.

The canceling of the races with Cornell and Columbia by Harvard is accepted as meaning that Filley & Co. are to be more exclusive than ever, and that the June race at New London is to be more elite on the part of the rowing clubs.

Although there is no evidence on the subject, testimony is not lacking that efforts are to be made to have Princeton go into the New London contests and form a triple alliance with Yale and Harvard. This will not occur next June, of course, but special matches with Princeton may be made by Yale and Harvard to take place at Carnegie Lake, if possible, and if not, at Lake Whitney and on the Charles River.

Royal Duckpin Tourney.

The semi-finals in the Royal duckpin tourney closed Saturday night after four weeks of excellent rolling and friendly rivalry. Roberts won first prize for highest qualifying score with a total of 1,355 pins for ten games. Elker jumped into second place in the last two days, and last captured third money. Finals in Class A will be held to-night, starting at 7:30. Class B Wednesday night. Scores:

From a Club Corner.

Roosion was minded to take the offensive.

"You have a great deal of fault to find with me," said Roosion to Badgerby, "but why don't you exercise your wit upon the present situation and prospects of the Democratic party?"

"That," said Badgerby, "is far from being a laughing matter."

"Yet you call yourself a Democrat."

"He would, you mean," said Kleet, "if Mr. Bryan would let him."
